SYDNEY
UNIVERSITY
PRESS

Mission

To be a leading *scholarly publisher in Australia of books that advance knowledge and influence policy.

To support the University of Sydney's brand as a research-intensive institution nationally and globally

Strategic outlook

- Started in 2005, publishing program revised in 2013
- Strategy overseen by SUP Advisory Board, chaired by Provost, with members from industry and university
- SUP Editorial Advisory board oversees publishing program
 - Approves new series
 - Final approval on all publishing projects
- Authors from Australia and beyond

Scope of publishing program

- Seven series that align with research priorities of the University of Sydney
- Series editors and series board who provide initial peer review of proposals
- 2–4 books per year per series
- Authors can be from anywhere, as long as topic and approach fit the scholarly series
- Some leeway with non-series titles and experimental publications

What we don't do

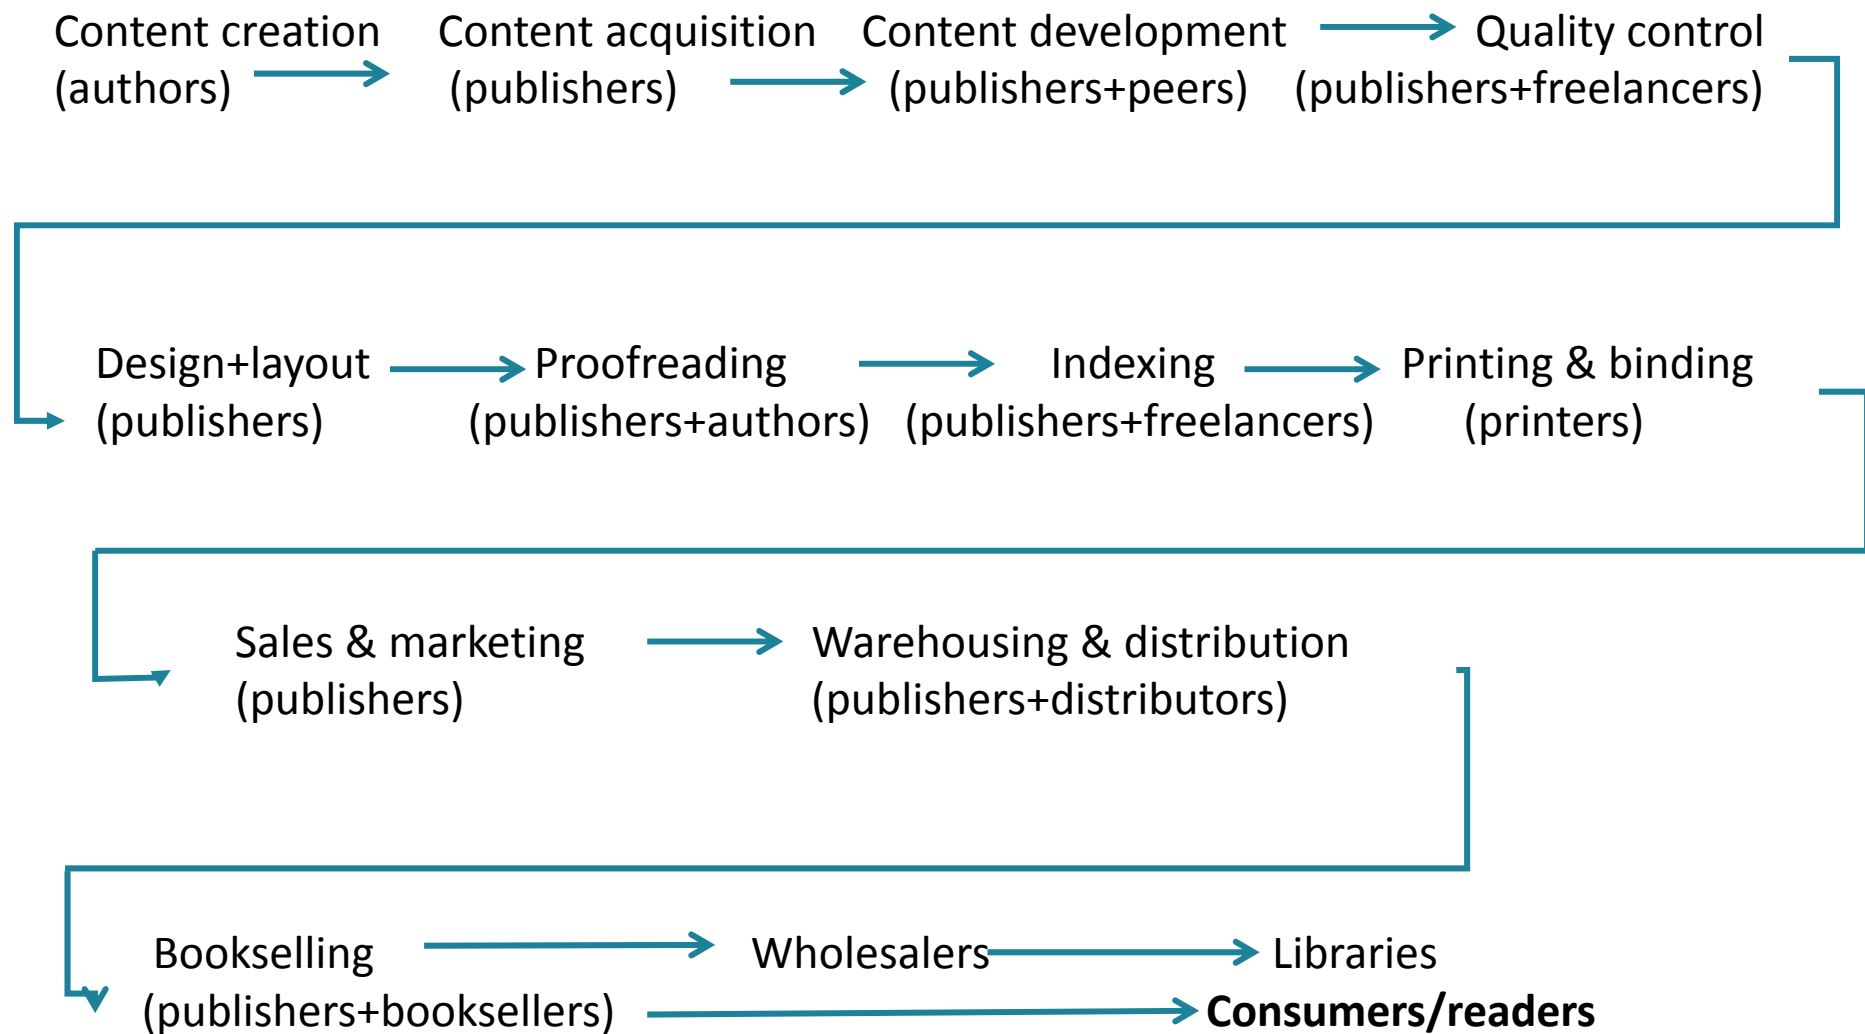

- Faculty histories
- Memoirs, autobiography
- University publications
- Student works
- Any other non-scholarly works that university staff dream up!

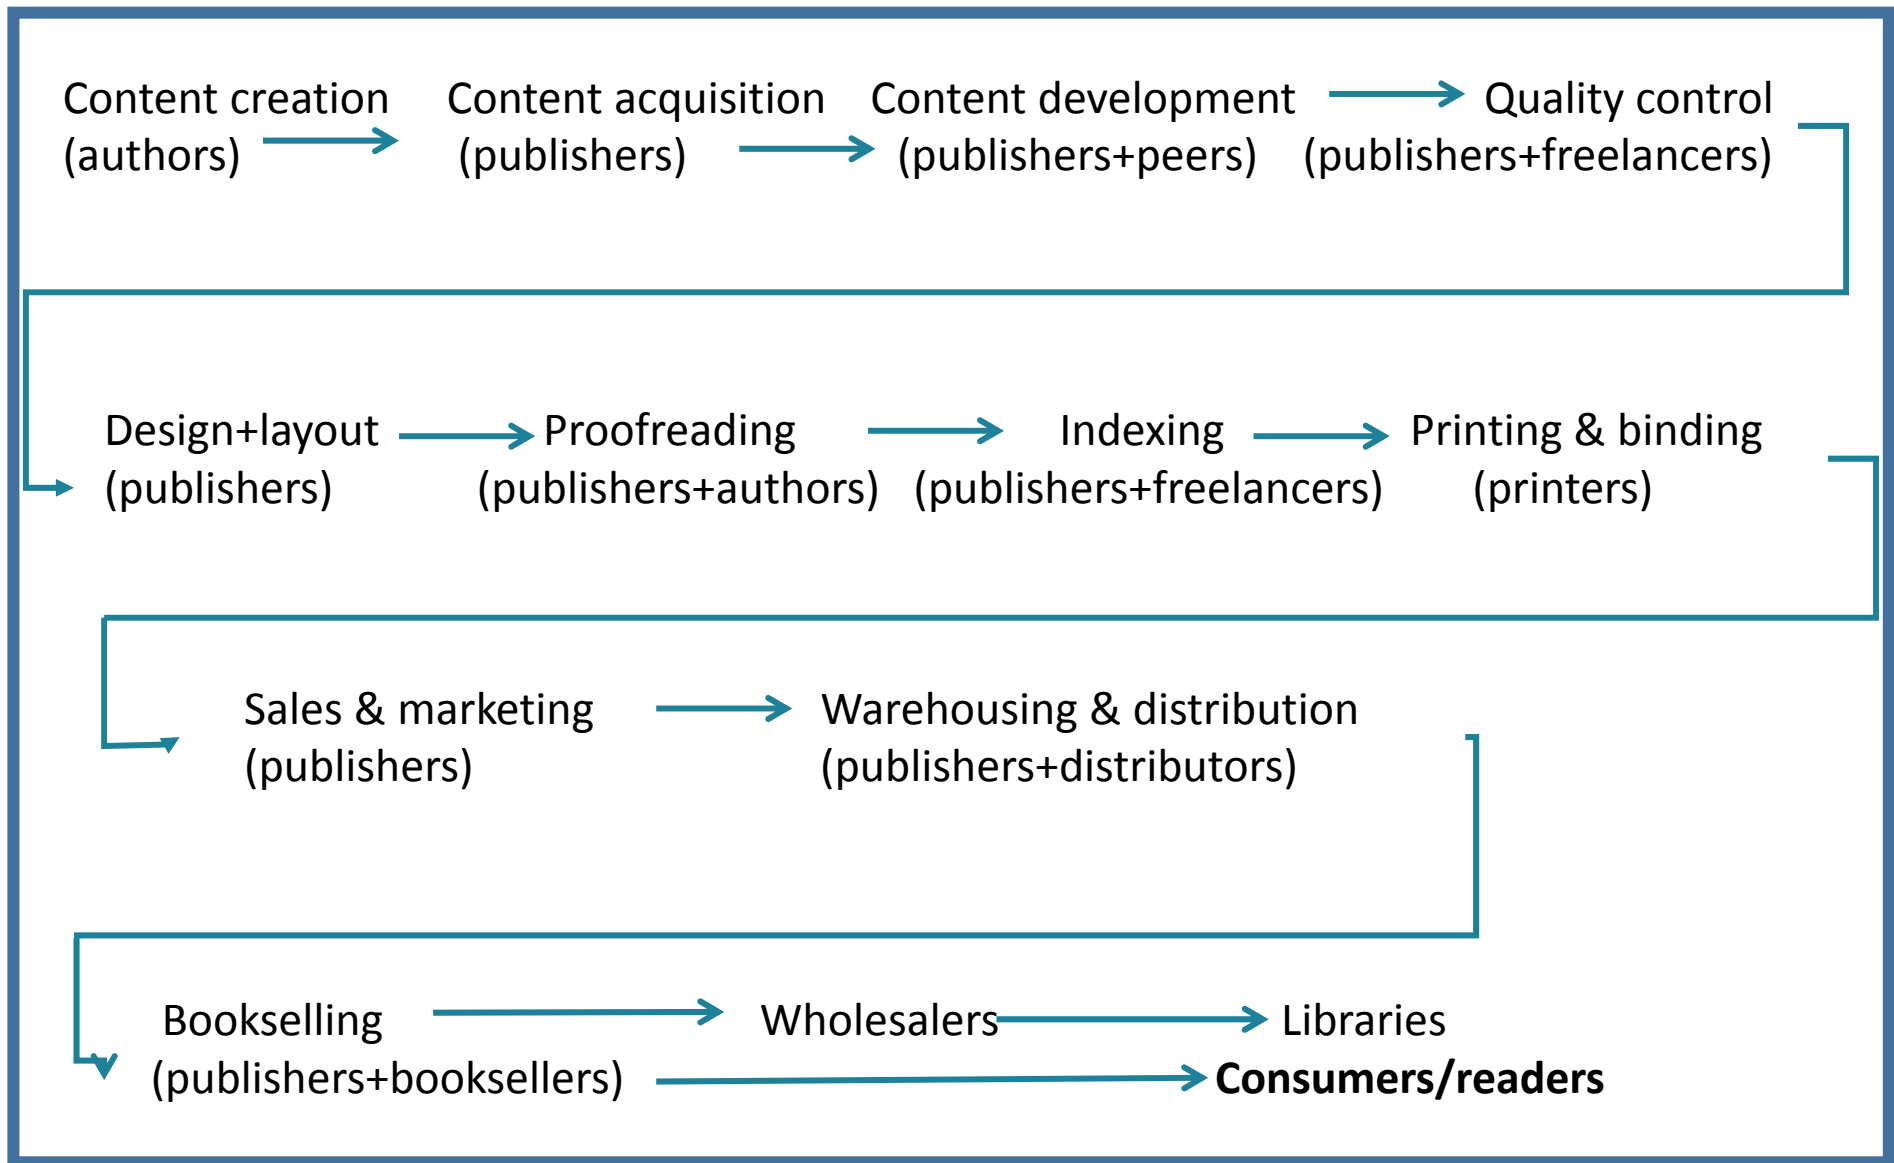

SUP series

- Animal Publics
- Sydney Studies in Australian Literature
- Public and Social Policy Series
- China and the West in the Modern World
- Indigenous Music of Australia
- Tom Austen Brown Series in Australasian Archaeology
- Adapa Monographs (Near Eastern Archaeology)

WE DO IT ALL

Selection and acquisition

- Book proposal form
- Series editor and board assessment, peer review
- Final approval from SUP Editorial Board
- Publishing agreement (contract)
- Authors retain copyright
- World rights for length of copyright

Content development

- Peer review of final manuscript – SUP coordinates, series editor selects reviewers (usually anonymous)
- We compile a report from peer review reports and our own editorial review
- Copyediting – freelance or in-house, depending on complexity and schedules

Layout and design

- All work to this point done in Word – track changes
- Word file styled to IGP template
- Word uploaded to IGP Digital Publisher Portal – becomes the single source
- A5, B5 and custom templates with our preferred fonts and margins

Index and proofing

- Index terms supplied by authors, use library collection for term checks
- Indexing done in-house or outsourced
- IGP DPP – index links are internal HREFs and work in print and ePub
- Authors, editors and SUP staff proof pages

Print and release

- Short run on release and then POD
- ePubs generated from IGP DPP – metadata added in system, a few imprint page changes
- SOS Print+Media in Alexandria
- Other printers for long run, hb etc – Ligare, 10Ten, Everbest

Sales and marketing

- Sales via our website to trade and customers
- eBooks via Apple iBookstore, Google Play, JSTOR, ProQuest
- Author information form as source of marketing ideas
- Launch events – Sydney Ideas, Gleebooks, Readings

Behind the scenes

- Staff are the Scholarly Publishing team of the Library with non-SUP responsibilities – OJS, Australian Poetry Library, etc.
- Intern program
- Salaries paid by Library
- Operations funded by sales, CAL licence income, occasional subvention
- Wholly owned registered business name of the university
